

We entitled our panel "Around Ards and The Peninsula" and incorporated images showcasing industry and leisure activities, and taken by novices as far as possible. These images took us on a visual trip around the northern end of the peninsula, taking in Scrabo and the surrounding AONB sites such as Clandeboye, Island Hill and the Kiltonga bird sanctuary, and across to Donaghadee and as far down the peninsula as Ballycopeland Windmill.

We included both the Irish Sea coast and Strangford Lough, and the selection of photographs demonstrates how diverse each photographer's approach to a theme can be.
